

AUGUST 19, 2016
BY CHRIS CROWELL

GameChange Solar surpasses 1 GW in sales

GameChange Solar sent word that it has passed the 1 GW mark in sales and expects to have substantially over 1 GW installed by year end 2016.

“Our mission is to help repower the planet with clean reliable solar energy,” said Derick Botha, VP of Business Development of GameChange Solar. “We offer the most cost effective fixed tilt and tracker products with bankable quality to the market to help our customers change their game with lower total cost for their solar project installations.”

Starting in 2012 with fixed-tilt roof and pile driven systems, GameChange Solar quickly moved into ballasted ground and then single axis tracker systems. GameChange Solar has since debuted multiple innovations and technologies for pile driven fixed-tilt and single axis tracker systems which have allowed the company to widen its lead in offering bankable quality products at value pricing to the large commercial and utility scale market. Here is an article on its new tracker technology.

Tags: GameChange Solar

As added value, GameChange Solar is doing tracker project commissioning for free during the next year.

SHARE THIS POST

